

CHASE PARK MESSENGER

What Would You Do?

Have you ever watched the television program entitled, “What Would You Do?” If you are not familiar with it, it features staged scenarios in which someone is being mistreated or some crime or injustice is being committed. With hidden cameras, they then watch to see how bystanders will respond. Some watch the objectionable behavior of others without making any effort to intervene while others take it upon themselves to come to the aid of the person playing the victim. It is an interesting program that seeks to examine the conscience and moral state of our culture. What strikes me is that, in a cultural environment and entertainment industry that constantly promotes the virtues of personal choice and relativism, this show is based on the premise that there is an absolute and undeniably right and wrong response to the scenarios that they create. It is just another testament to the darkness that dominates our world.

Of course, we as Christians do not dwell in darkness as does the world. We have been “called out of darkness into His marvelous light”(1 Peter 2:9). God “has delivered us from the power of darkness and conveyed us into the kingdom of the Son of His love” (Colossians 1:13). He “has given to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of Him who called us by glory and virtue,” (2 Peter 1:3) and has taught us how to respond to any circumstance of life. Our challenge is not to be found in knowing what to do but in steadfastly following God’s direction even when it runs counter to the world’s mindset. When faced with those moments of decision regarding right and wrong, may we always stand with God and strive to do His will.

Welcome, Guests

We are honored that you have chosen to visit with us today! Our time of worship together on the Lord’s Day is one of the highlights of each week and we are thrilled to be able to share this special time with you.

As we worship, our desire is to do so according to the New Testament pattern and in a way that is pleasing and acceptable to God. It is also our prayer that our time together is uplifting to those who are here including you, our guests. If you have any questions about anything that you see or hear today, please feel free to ask. We would love to speak with you about those things and help you in any way that we can.
