Thank you

"Dear Chase Park Family,
Thanks to all for the calls, food, and cards. Especially for all the prayers on my behalf during my past couple of weeks. I am blessed to have all of you in my life. Love you,"
Dot Lewter

"Dear Chase Park Family,
The last years here have been a blessing in my life because of you. Your many acts of caring and kindness have encouraged me spiritually and physically. In a few days I will be moving to Denver, NC, to be with my daughter and son and their families. My heart and prayers will always be with you. Love,"
Dorothy Johnson

"Chase Park Church,
With special thanks for all the love shown to Wayne during his illness (the food, visits, prayers and the wonderful afternoon of singing). Your love will never be forgotten. Also, thank you all for the support after Wayne's passing. We are forever filled with gratitude. Much love,"
Sis Annie Mae Pinchon, Jackie Walker, Jean Stone

Changing World / Changeless God

Change. It's a necessary and inevitable part of life in this world. Sometimes, the changes that we encounter are very positive and bring into our lives new opportunities, adventures, and blessings. Sometimes, the changes are unwelcome and force difficult struggles into our lives. And then there are those times when the changes that come into our lives are bittersweet, bringing both joy and sorrow. Regardless of the type of change that we encounter, change is change and it is always a challenge.

Aren't you glad that in a world so filled with change, we serve a God who is unchanging. In His character, His nature, His word and His will, God is the same that He has always been and always will be. He does not change. What that means for you and me is that there is no guesswork when it comes to God. In a world of shifting sands, He is a firm foundation, an unmovable anchor point, a sure and steady guide. His promises are faithful and His word is everlasting.

What does all of this mean for us? It means that whatever we may face in this life, God is a constant and unchanging source of comfort, help, and strength. He walks with us through the uncertainties of life and is always there to hear and to answer our prayers and to meet all of our needs through His providential care. And when all is said and done, He assures us through His faithful promises of an eternal home in which all of the unknowns and challenges of this life are no more. What a wonderful and comforting promise from our powerful, loving, and unchanging heavenly Father!
